BRAND BOULEVARD

ITS IMPROVEMENT SOUTH FROM GLENDALE LIMITS APPROVED BY L. A. OFFICIALS

Now that the ban on public improvements has been lifted and permission has been given by the Capital Issues Company for the improvement by the city of Los Angeles of Brand Boulevard from the city limits of Glendale south to Rowena Street, residents of Glendale and others who will use that thoroughfare are interested in knowing how long it will be before they can enjoy it. The contract has been awarded to the big firm of Fairchild, Gilmore & Wilton for approximately $90,000, and the project has just been approved by the board of public works.

The contractors state that the work has been ordered under what is known as the "act of 1913." The firm is not "rushed" at the present time and is perfectly willing to start tomorrow, but the city must first take into consideration the damage to abutting property and settlements have to be made before the work can proceed. Several pretty good sized cuts and fills will be required, which will damage property to a certain extent, and these damages and awards have to be taken into account before the contractors can be instructed to go ahead. The board of public works has jurisdiction and the matter is in the hands of that board and the office of the city engineer. It is, therefore, considered probable that several months will elapse before road building machinery will be in operation on the boulevard.

THE 1919 CITY DIRECTORY

On account of the high cost of paper stock and for good business reasons, the new 1919 City Directory will not be sold for less than $4 per copy after going to press. Orders will be received now for $3 at the Evening News office. It should be in every store, office, school and home. Order now, as only a very limited number of additional copies will be on sale at $4 at the time of delivery.

ELK OFFICIALS VISIT L. A.

Wednesday night officers of B. P. O. E. Lodge No. 1289 of this city went to Los Angeles and put on initiatory ceremonies for Lodge No. 99 of that city. The party included: Exalted Ruler Bert Woodard, Leading Knight C. D. Thom, Esteemed Loyal Knight R. E. Chase, Esteemed Lecturing Knight John F. Fanset, Esquire Alfred F. Priest and Captain William Wattles, with ten members of the drill team. The meeting, which was well attended, was highly successful and the work was put on with marked enthusiam.

HIGH SCHOOL WORK

PRINCIPAL MOYSE EXPLAINS CORRESPONDENCE SYSTEM INAUGURATED

The length of the period for which the high school is closed on account of the influenza is indefinite and cannot be determined at the present time. Daily home lessons have been assigned for an indefinite period with instructions to the students that a lesson shall be prepared for each school day that school is not in session, with the exception that two lessons only shall be prepared for Christmas week and four for New Year's week.

The home work for this period is based entirely upon text-books. No work is to be done in the school library. The school library and the grounds are closed during this period. The school office will give telephone assistance each forenoon. Students are asked to mail their prepared lessons, always with their address, to their teachers, or to drop them into the mail chute at the school building. The corrected lessons or the papers that need to be rewritten will be returned by mail to the students.

It is expected that at least one hour will be spent in preparing each lesson. Students will be held responsible for the preparation of these lessons and the classes will proceed at the reopening of school on the basis that the home work has been prepared according to instructions. The attention of parents is called to the fact that only those students who have regularly done the home assignments can hope to continue with their classes.

If the parents have any questions concerning these home assignments, I shall be glad to answer them. We wish to work together to best promote the interests of the students and the school. GEO. U. MOYSE, Principal.

NEW CANDY FACTORY

W. E. PELLEY ESTABLISHES CANDY MANUFACTURY AT BROADWAY AND GLENDALE

Glendale has a brand new factory, the sweetest thing anybody ever saw in the manufacturing line, for it is a candy factory, which opened up at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning and had turned out more than 100 pounds before 6 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Pelley are the manufacturers, and they have taken charge of the large store room just east of the banking room in the Bank of Glendale building at the corner of Broadway and Glendale Avenue. They have not had time to equip it except with the bare necessities for business and expect to be jumping busy from now until Christmas time turning out their toothsome products, which they estimate will total not less than two tons.

They have been manufacturing for Mrs. Findley, who now owns the retail candy store the Pelleys established next to the Palace Grand Theater, but the trade of the store has increased to such an extent that it was no longer possible to turn out the product in the small kitchen at the rear of the shop; so, to meet the demands of that store and fill orders which were constantly coming to him from other dealers, Mr. Pelley decided to start now with his wholesale candy factory instead of waiting until after the holidays as he had planned to do.

No retail sales will be made, but orders will be taken for special candies for social affairs, the orders to be placed with the Pelley store on Brand and the goods to be delivered there.

It will be good news to boys and girls who are fond of candy pulls to know that Mr. Pelley is in position to make up taffies for such candy pulls, for church bazaars and socials, and for lodge doings or for the Red Cross, and that such consignments, where the candy is to be sold for the benefit of some worthy object, will be furnished at the cost of the materials.

As soon as they can spare the time to arrange for it, the Pelleys expect to have an attractive sign made for their establishment and to build an office in front, also to add to their equipment and make their institution thoroughly up-to-date in all respects. When they are ready for an opening they may give a series of demonstrations of how candy is made, to which the public will be invited.

Mr. Pelley has been considering the establishment of a factory for some time and has carefully inspected the field. After considering the matter from many viewpoints, he decided he could not do better than to locate it in Glendale, where his home and friends are, and the encouragement he has had from retailers, who know him and the sort of goods he is able to turn out, gives him every reason to expect the venture may develop into a large business which will make necessary the employment of a number of assistants.

DEATH OF MRS. WILLIAMS

Mrs. Henrietta Nye Williams, widow of Lewis Williams, passed away at her residence, 1241 East Harvard Street, Wednesday, Dec. 18, 1918. Her death was a severe shock to the members of her family and to her friends, of whom there are many in Glendale, as her illness was only of a week's duration.

Mrs. Williams was 72 years of age. She came to Glendale about five years ago from Cleveland, Ohio, which was the family home for many years. She is mourned by four sons—Major Harry N. Williams of Chicago, now in France with the American expeditionary forces; Lawrence D. Williams of Glendale, Lewis Williams of San Diego and Blair Williams of Conneaut, Ohio.

A private service will be held at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forst Lawn Memorial Park, Friday afternoon, followed by cremation.

BOY SCOUT OUTING

Troop No. 1 of the Boy Scouts of the Tropico District had an outing Wednesday night. Under the leadership of Scoutmaster E. E. Harwood, principal of the Cerritos School, they went to the river and cooked their supper, and Glen Roberts passed the cooking test for second class scout and Robert Searle was made senior patrol. The boys played "capture the flag" until 9 o'clock and then came home.

Charles Shropshire, of the U. S. S. Wilmette at Chicago, surprised his mother and sisters by presenting himself quite unexpectedly. He has been granted a holiday furlough and will be here until after Christmas.

PRESIDENT AND CLEMENCEAU CONFER

UNDERSTANDING BETWEEN AMERICA AND FRANCE IS PRACTICALLY ASSURED

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Dec. 19.—President Wilson and Premier Clemenceau today began the most important conference yet held at President Wilson's Paris home in the Murat Palace. It is believed that as a result of the conference the President and the Premier of France will reach a close understanding on the peace program.

After the conference with Premier Clemenceau, the President visited Marshal Foch.

Tomorrow the President and Mrs. Wilson will entertain Foreign Minister Pinchon and wife at luncheon. During the day the President will receive the foreign ambassadors and ministers at his home.

Festivities connected with the visit of King Victor Emanuel of Italy began this afternoon, the king and his party having arrived at 3:10 p. m. The party included the king and queen, Crown Prince Humbert, Premier Orlando and Foreign Minister Sonnio. Premier Clemenceau, with members of the French cabinet, greeted the king at the station. President Wilson and King Emanuel will exchange visits late this afternoon.

COMPETITION FOR HOUSE SPEAKERSHIP

TRIANGULAR REPUBLICAN CONTEST BETWEEN REPRESENTATIVES GILLETTE, MANN AND FOSS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 19.—Representative Gillette, Republican, of Massachusetts, today formally announced that he would be a candidate for the Speakership of the House against Representative Mann, Republican floor leader.

Representative Foss of Ohio also is expected to make his formal announcement soon, creating a three-cornered race among the Republicans.

Representatives Kahn of California, Towner of Iowa and Campbell of Kansas will also probably enter the race, but their vote will be largely complimentary.

INCREASED COST OF STATE GOVERNMENT

STATE TREASURER REPORTS GROSS EXPENDITURES HAVE INCREASED TWENTY-SIX PER CENT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Sacramento, Dec. 19.—State Treasurer Friend Richardson reported today that the gross expenditures of the state government have increased 26 per cent in the last four years.

GERMAN FLEET DESTRUCTION

SECRETARY LANSING ASKED TO EXPLAIN ATTITUDE OF U. S. TOWARD THE PROPOSAL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senator Lodge today introduced a resolution into the Senate demanding that Secretary Lansing inform the Senate whether the United States peace delegation advocates the destruction of all surrendered German warships, as reported in the press dispatches. The resolution further demanded that, if the report is correct, by what authority such action is being urged.

BULK OF AMERICAN TROOPS LEAVE ENGLAND

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, Dec. 19.—All the American troops, excepting about 2,500 wounded and General Biddle's staff, have left England, it was announced today.

RESIGNATION OF CHANCELLOR EBERT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

Paris, Dec. 19.—"The Journal" today said it understood that German Chancellor Ebert had resigned.

PERUVIAN CONSUL SUICIDES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

San Francisco, Dec. 19.—Louis Calderon, Peruvian consul at San Francisco, shot and killed himself here today. The reason is unknown.

OVATION TO ENGLISH GENERALS

BIG CELEBRATION WHEN THEY ARRIVE TO VISIT KING GEORGE AT BUCKINGHAM PALACE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

London, Dec. 19.—Hundreds of thousands of Londoners, with a liberal sprinkling of Americans, today gave Field aMrshal Haig and Generals Rawlinson, Byng and Birdwood a tremendous ovation when they arrived to visit King George. With difficulty the police cleared a way for the triumphal procession through the streets to Buckingham Palace. An aerial escort circled overhead. The generals had lunch with the king.

RED CROSS SHOP

BEAUTIFUL DOLLS AND OTHER ATTRACTIVE STOCK ADORNS ITS WINDOWS

The windows of the Red Cross shop have been redressed and are very attractive, especially to little girls, for in one are beautiful and very prettily dressed dolls. The history of some of these dolls would be interesting reading if it could be had in toto, but they are discreet and the past is a sealed book. At least they keep their beautiful lips closed and never even wink an eye unless they are being put to bed. They demonstrate, however, the resourcefulness of the shop chairman, Mrs. Jack Boettner, who closely inspected the salvage of the Junior Red Cross as it came in, for wrecks of dolls. All the separate heads, trunks and arms and legs were saved and taken to the doll hospital in Los Angeles, where reconstructive surgery almost as wonderful as that performed in the army took place, and the dolls came back perfect and beautiful to behold. These dolls have been clothed for the Christmas trade and in a number of instances the work has been done by little girls. One lovely doll twenty-two inches tall has been dressed by little Grace Yarbrough, who made every stitch of its clothing from its white satin slip and dainty underwear to a handsome fur-trimmed stylish hat, a muff and tippet.

Little Dorothy Cramer of Brand Boulevard made a pretty outfit for a fetching doll, even making a wig for her.

Mrs. Buchanan of 109 South Maryland dressed two dolls for the shop. Mrs. Boettner provided the "going away dress" and cap for one of the prettiest exhibits, and the biggest, most impressive doll in the window, who is quite up-to-date in a pink gingham dress and fancy underwear, was dressed by Mrs. Charles Eling.

Another window is devoted to beautiful tatting by the yard and made into dainty vanity bags, contributed by Miss May Lyons. It has attracted much attention and is selling well.

Still another consignment consists of aprons, fancy and plain, beautifully made by Mrs. Don Wells. These, too, are popular.

Mrs. Boettner has entirely recovered from influenza and is again superintending the shop. She is anxious it should make a good record in Christmas sales and will welcome contributions as well as patrons.

A GOOD WAR RECORD

Lawrence Cramer, son of Mrs. Lorena Cramer, has been heard from since the armistice was signed. His sister received a letter from him yesterday in which he catalogued the battles in which he has participated. The list includes Chateau Thierry, Cinde-en-Brie, Cierges, St. Mihiel, Verdun and Argonne Forest, which is some record for a boy brought up in a quiet town like Glendale. He is now at Saumur, east of Paris, where he has been attending an artillery school in an endeavor to secure a commission. The work is intensive and he has been studying very hard. He fears it is thrown away, however, except for the mental training, and that there is little chance of obtaining the commission now that the armistice has been signed, which is a great pity after a boy has been through so much. He tells interesting incidents in the follow-up campaign in the wake of the retreating Germans, how at Cierges they were held up for lack of horses, which had been killed by the enemy, and of the contemptible tactics of the Germans. That in one instance guns which raked the American boys had been concealed in a church tower from which the Red Cross flag was flying. He says he will be very glad to get back to the United States, but has no idea when he will be slated for return.

DEATH OF F. M. SHUMATE

Francis Marion Shumate, Jr., died this morning (Dec. 18, 1918) at Thornycroft, after a three weeks' illness which began with influenza and terminated in pneumonia. He had been a resident of Glendale only a few months, but had lived in California for the past fifteen years, most of the time in the Imperial Valley, where he was in business near Holtville and where he had a large circle of friends. He was born in Danville, Ky., Dec. 19, 1878, and was unmarried. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Shumate, also natives of Kentucky, who are now residing at 316 Milford Street, this city. Funeral arrangements are awaiting the arrival of his sister, Mrs. J. H. Jackson, formerly of Glendale but now living at Catalina. She is expected to reach Los Angeles by tonight's boat.

CORP. W. W. ESTERLY

WRITES HIS FAMILY AND SENDS NEWSPAPER ACCOUNT OF ARRIVAL IN NEW YORK

Mrs. John Esterly of South Adams Street has received a letter from her son, Corporal W. W. Esterly, written from "Debarkation Hospital No. 3," Greenhut Building, New York City, Dec. 11, 1918, in which he says:

"Back home again in the good old U. S. A. and feeling fine. Who could help feeling so?

"This surely is one fine hospital. Everything clean and plenty of room. There are 4,000 beds in this one hospital.

"Wish you were here to wish me a 'welcome home,' but they are liable to ship me to the base hospital at Camp Kearny in a few weeks. Then you could come down and see me.

"Expect a return night letter most any time now. Am waiting.

"With love and best wishes to all, I am, yours, WILLIAM."

In another envelope Corporal Esterly enclosed a post card picture of the S. S. Empress of Britain on which he arrived. He also enclosed a long illustrated article published in the New York Herald of December 11, in which are pictured groups of the wounded and a few individual portraits.

The arrival of the Empress of Britain was of special interest to New York City, because it carried among its 76 officers and 2,373 soldiers many men of the old Seventh and Seventy-first commands, which have had long and highly honorable places in the city's history.

The five hundred wounded, of whom Corporal Esterly was one, were under the care of Captain George H. Putney of Great Falls, N. Y., the transport surgeon, and ten nurses. Captain George S. Webster, commander of the steamship, is said to have maneuvered his big vessel through a succession of gales and heavy seas in such a manner that he won the praise of every man on board, especially the wounded.

Many of the wounded were interviewed by representatives of the paper, among them Corporal Esterly, of whom the Herald said:

"Corporal W. W. Esterly of Glendale, Cal., said that his company—G of the 196th—was practically wiped out in the drive on St. Quentin on Sept. 27, when the corporal was shot through the lung and through the left thigh."

DAD'S XMAS LETTER

MR. AND MRS. A. P. KNIGHT HEAR AGAIN FROM THEIR SON, LIEUT. ALFRED KNIGHT

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Knight of this city are the recipients of one of the Christmas letters which the government promised the soldier boys overseas it would deliver in time for Christmas if the letter were mailed by Nov. 24 and marked "Dad's Christmas Letter." The letter is from their son, Lieutenant Alfred Knight, who writes that he has been at Angier, where Don Packer was located, and did not find it out until after they got away, so missed seeing him. He also tells of receiving a letter from Hill McGillis, who is at Bourges. He had just heard of the arrival in France of "our regiment, the 50th Artillery."

Their camp now is very comfortable, he says, with stoves in the tents and a mess hall made of strips of corrugated iron; that it is a very different looking place from what it was the day they arrived and were turned loose in a field full of hedges, grape stumps, brush, etc., and told to make a camp. It was raining that morning and they had to set up their tents on the soaked ground and sleep on the wet ground. The officers' tents now have electric lights in them. He speaks of the weather as "real cold, with ice and frost," but the stoves keep them very comfortable part of the time. He was to have been at an artillery school at Angier, but was recalled to the army headquarters at Montoir, where, he says, "it looks as though they intended to send us somewhere, but we have no idea where."

A Christmas package which he speaks of sending has been received by Mrs. Knight. When it reached her the envelope was almost worn away, and she considers it quite wonderful that it got to her at all.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1918

PRACTICAL WORK

RED CROSS CHAPTER A VERY PRESENT HELP TO VICTIMS OF INFLUENZA

The local work of the Red Cross is increasing. Mrs. Blackburn, the cashier, has been the resource of distracted parents and husbands seeking nurses and domestic help when inflenza has invaded their homes and has been of great service in answering such calls. And she is repeating the request that all local nurses and women seeking work in homes shall register with her that she may call upon them when there are openings to be filled.

Calls for pneumonia jackets continue to come in. Wednesday morning there was a call for five for one family. A nurse had been installed, who reported that almost everything needful in sickness was lacking, so the Red Cross force got busy and sent not only the pneumonia jackets, but a collection of towels as well, and the case was reported to Mrs. E. S. McKee, chairman of local relief for the Tuesday Afternoon Club and P. T. A.

Mrs. McKee has special resources in that she has first claim on the salvage collected by the Junior Red Cross and selects from it the things most likely to be needed for local relief before any of it is disposed of elsewhere. When she has completed her inspection the salvage is systematically combed by others. Mrs. Boettner extracts articles likely to be salable in the Red Cross shop. Mrs. Thompson, who is chairman of conservation, then sorts out all materials that can be remade or remodelled. The remainder is sold as junk of one sort or another by L. T. Rowley, manager of the salvage department of the Junior Red Cross.

The pneumonia jackets are given away outright from the headquarters on Brand Boulevard. Sometimes the recipient is a person of wealth. That makes no difference, however. The jackets cannot be sold, but if the recipient wants to make a donation to the chapter, as many do, Mrs. Blackburn receives it gladly. One of the applicants Wednesday morning was a very rich man. Influenza is no respecter of persons and it had found its way into his home and attacked a member of his family who was very dear, the case developing into pneumonia.

Personals

R. M. Jackson, secretary of the Elks' Club, who has been ill for the past week, is said to be much better.

There is not much doing among the Masons this week. Before long the Knight Templar Commandery will visit the Long Beach Lodge.

The Pioneer Club will be entertained by Mrs. Pierre V. Potter of Pioneer Drive New Year's Eve. It will be a watch party to which the husbands will be invited.

Miss Gladys Hamilton returned to her home on Acacia Street Wednesday from Newcastle, where she has been teaching and where the schools have again closed. She does not expect to return until the 30th.

Mrs. W. W. Worley, executive secretary of the Junior Red Cross, and Mr. Worley, celebrated their wedding anniversary Wednesday by going to Los Angeles for a little dinner together and an evening at the theater.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds returned yesterday from Thornycroft Hospital to his home on Cedar Street, and is making a fine recovery from an operation for appendicitis which he underwent about two weeks ago.

Myron Betz has entirely recovered from the serious attack of double pneumonia in which he nearly lost his life, but he is not yet strong enough to resume his work. He and Mrs. Betz are at their home on Hawthorne Street.

The Woman's Benefit Association of the Maccabees will hold their third organization meeting Thursday night in Mrs. Keller's hall. A guard team and officers from a Los Angeles Review will exemplify the initiation and install Glendale's new Maccabee officers.

Eugene Imler is still at Camp Humphrey. He has written some interesting details of a recent trip which he made to Washington, D. C., with a college chum who is an Australian and who is taking out naturalization papers. Eugene accompanied him as a testifying witness.

Rather discouraging reports have been received from Dr. Bahrenburg of Park Avenue, who went to Bakersfield to visit his sons and was taken sick there. His friends are quite concerned about him. Mrs. Bahrenberg is there with him and their home here is being occupied by Mrs. Babrenberg's sister.

Mr. Lindsey, proprietor of the Variety Store, this city, was a guest at a banquet given by the "Brotherhood" of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, Tuesday evening, in honor of Dr. Patton, pastor of the church, who has just returned from Y. M. C. A. work overseas and who had much of interest to tell them of his experiences with the army.

Mrs. E. L. Tuck, sister of Mrs. R. V. Hogue, has returned from Santa Ana, where she has been for some time to help care for her sister, who is still confined to her bed with pneumonia and not yet out of danger. Mrs. Addie Allen, mother of Mrs. Hogue and Mrs. Tuck, enjoyed a quiet celebration of her birthday Wednesday.

Good fortune has again visited Mr. and Mrs. Kemper Campbell of 1912 South Brand Boulevard. A fine boy arrived to make his home with them this (Thursday) morning. He has been named Kemper Campbell and has received a royal welcome. He is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. David Hibben, the parents of Mrs. Campbell.

Miss Hilda Englehart, who has been making her home with Mrs. Adelaide Imler and Miss Hickman of this city while attending Junior College at Hollywood, returned to her home in Brawley after the school was closed on account of influenza. The Engleharts expect to motor up to enjoy the New Year festivities, particularly the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena.

Members of the Glendale Congregational Church are looking forward to a treat Sunday morning, when the Christmas cantata, "Star of Bethlehem," will be given by the choir, assisted by Mr. Westervelt, who has a beautiful bass voice, and by Mrs. Gladys Stewart. It will take the place of the customary Sunday morning service and will occupy all the time except for a ten-minute Christmas sermonette by the acting pastor, Rev. Marsh.

G. Clayton, the automobile agent, after residing for some time in the Frentz Apartments, has purchased from Stanley Frentz a seven-room bungalow on the corner of Harvard and Orange Streets. The transaction was completed last week and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton and family expect to take possession of their new home about the first of the year. The Claytons expect to have their sons, who are in the navy, with them on Christmas Day. As yet the boys have no knowledge of when they will be mustered out.

SCIENCE QUESTIONS

ASSIGNMENT TO PUPILS OF INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL FOR NEXT WEEK

Miss Martha J. Brown, teacher of science in the Intermediate School, this city, has asked the Glendale Evening News to publish the following questions for general science lessons under her instruction, covering the work assigned by her for next week:

1. Name and describe the three great classes of food, indicating their values. What determines largely the kind of food needed and the amount? Why is water indispensible to health?

2. What is the effect of heat on the constituents of meat and on starchy foods? Of what does the alimentary canal consist.

3. Describe fully the digestion of food from the time it enters the mouth until it reaches the large intestines, showing how it is both a mechanical and chemical process and the various ferments that are used.

4. Give something of history of sugar substitutes. Why are some of these injurious? How is vinegar prepared? What is acetic acid? How is butter made and upon what does its flavor depend? What is renovated butter, and oleomargarine? State difference between olive oil and cottonseed oil?

5. How are jellies and extracts made and adulterated? Why should we be careful in the use of coloring matter for foods? Tell something of the Pure Food Laws, also the Food and Drugs Act of 1906.

DEATH OF FLORENCE HOLMES

In response to telegraphic instructions, the Pulliam Undertaking Co. is this afternoon meeting the Salt Lake train to receive the body of Florence Holmes, who died Tuesday at Las Vegas, N. M. She is a sister of the noted film actress, Helen Holmes, and when she was here three years ago they worked together. She was but 23 years old and was born in Chicago. Eight days ago she was stricken with influenza which ran into pneumonia. Relatives who mourn the loss of this talented young woman include, besides the sister mentioned, her mother, Mrs. O. E. Bowles; her uncle, V. L. Barnes, and her grandmother, Mrs. C. B. Barnes, all of 231 Pioneer Drive, this city. A Christian Science service will be held Friday afternoon at the Pulliam parlors and interment will be made at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Carney's Store at 112 East Broadway will be open every evening until Christmas. It is well lighted, which gives you a fine opportunity to select a nice present.

Good reports are given of the condition of Joe Fortunato, who has been ill of influenza.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday.

THREE CHUMS HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Laurence Rowe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rowe of Orange Avenue, has been discharged from service and arrived Tuesday afternoon from Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. His failure to get across was a great disappointment to him. He would probably have realized his hopes but for the influenza quarantine in which he was caught, as he had been put in the overseas detachment. He will be here until after the holidays and will then go back to Richmond, where he has about two more years' work in the course he is taking in the Santa Fe schools and shops. His friend, Walter Peters, is still in service at Camp Kearny, but is looking for an early discharge and hoping to be able to return to Richmond with Laurence and join their chum, George Terrill, now there, whose home is at Windsor Road and Brand Boulevard, this city, and whose parents are expecting him home for the holidays. If he comes it will be his first visit here since a year ago.

Influenza is not the only affliction that may come upon our people. A few days ago one of the Evening News carrier boys ate two pounds of nuts in a single installment. It is taking him four days at home to digest the luxurious meal.

Good health and a bright, optimistic mind are a good preventive of disease. Pure air, plenty of sunshine, wholesome food, an undisturbed mind, judicious exercise and the normal hours of sleep will keep a man healthy and sensibly wise.

The quiet courage of every day, that does its best hour by hour and accepts as part of the day's work the losses and penalties that the steadfast doing right must often bring—this is the highest courage of all.

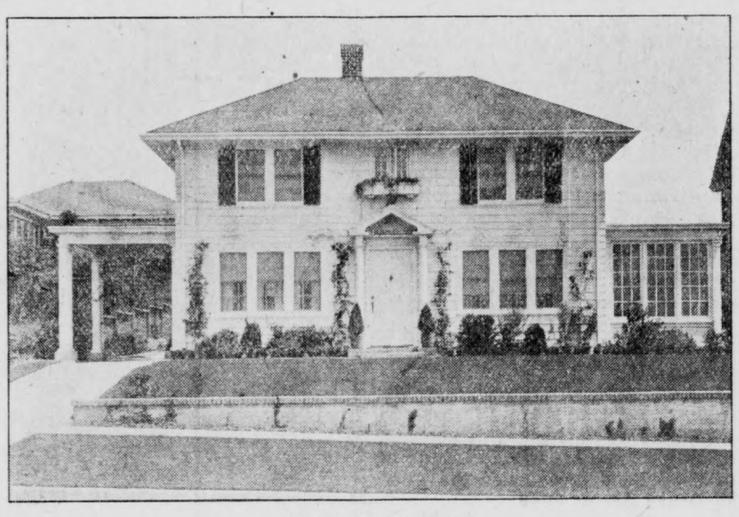
THE HOME OF CHARACTER

is the home built of wood. A product rich in its inheritance of qualities to withstand the hardships of constant exposure.

Durability and natural beauty is lumber's legacy from Mother Nature.

Wooden building material boasts of a family tree of creditable ancestry that has furnished home protection to man since the beginning of civilization.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME



DESIGN NO. 2000

This home is designed for the family desiring a small home of the two story type yet with larger exterior appearance. It has seven rooms with all conveniences and the added sun room and porte-cochere give it the broad front.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The homes illustrated here each week are selected from the designs of the Lumbermen's Service Association. Any information, floor plans or cost to build will be gladly furnished by either of the local members of this association:

DUTY CALLS

You can save a portion of your earnings,
You can put away a coin each day.
Deny yourself the luxuries you're yearning,
Keep that tempting wolf, extravagance, at bay.

If your own desire for wealth is not sufficient
To master habits stronger than your will,
Then to make determination more efficient,
Remember you've a duty to fulfill.

Forget the value of the gold you'll hoard,
For greater far than all material worth
Is the contentment that possession will afford
Of a Home, man's model of "Heaven on Earth."

Opportunity is ever at your door,
The world helps every man to own a Home,
'Tis God's will alike to rich and poor
To have a house that you can call your own.

Think of the money you have paid for rent
To enrich the coffer of some other man
Those worthless receipts' total represent
A Home, if bought on the installment plan.

—L. T. DERNIER.

OWN YOUR OWN HOME

To Build a Home Is The Sacred Obligation of Every Family

The Creator endowed every breathing thing with this earthly obligation and provided every requirement for home-making alike to man and beast. The birds, their nests,---the mole and snake the ability to mould a home in the ground and so on,---each an architect and builder after his kind.

Do you think he meant for man, in his higher element, to hire his dwelling from his neighbor? No brother, search your inner feelings and no where in your heart will you find a desire for a rented abode like your longing for a Home, your own to have and to hold.

This desire for Home is inborn and is a God-given duty we owe to ourselves, our community, our country and our Creator. It is a shameful fact that we humans, created dominant of all living things, are less prone to our sacred duties than the lowly beasts of the fields, over whom we have dominion.
